The story behind this design and installation: New executive office with special accent plants in simple modern locations. The Interior Landscaping design was coordinated with the companies' Interior Designer that had specific design criteria. The lobby is flanked with A. Mary Ann at the stairwell and a flower changing bowl on the table. Several rows of 3 tall squares with Mary Ann Aglaonema accented the common areas. The low plants enhanced the industrial art and color accent areas. The entrance to the board room was complemented with a 32" by 64" Plant Portrait.

What makes this design unique: The Plant Portrait with simple 3 color vines add to the entrance of the boardroom. Rows of three tall squares and a round cylinder enhance the industrial art and sleek column panel system architecture. A low bowl of color welcomes visitors to the lobby. The simple design complements the industrial and modern building and welcomes visitors from all over the world.

★ First Place, Artificial Foliage, $100 to $10,000

Botanicus Interior Landscape for Wyndham Garden Hotel, Williamsville

List of plants/flowers used: PVC Onion Grass, Artificial Box Hedge, Artificial Bamboo palms

Growers/brokers used for plant material: Autograph Foliages, May Silk

Containers used: Architectural Supplements - Phoenix Tall Square. Ironclad rectangle.

Topdressing used: Custom cut Moss matt green cloth.

Other materials: Collars, pedestals.

The story behind this design and installation: Working within the Wyndham Hotel specifications, we collaborated with the developer and interior designer to add accent artificial faux plants to the newly- built hotel. A preset list of specifications was given to us a week before opening. We made new specification recommendations and quickly got a detailed proposal to the designer. The approved redesign was ordered from the vendors. Our installation department brought “temporary” plants for the grand opening only a few days away. The final installation was adjusted to the requested changes of the designer.

What makes this design unique? The boxwood hedge was added in the parking garage to prevent patrons from tripping on the raised area walkthrough.

Additional comments: The new hotel building boasts apartments, a restaurant, a fitness center, an indoor pool and other amenities.
